Class 1 durability | 25-year warranty | Delivered NZ-wide

WHY BAMBOO DECKING

Harder than kwila. Kinder to the planet.

dasso strand-woven bamboo turns one of nature's fastest-growing plants into a dense, hard-wearing deck board that's made for New Zealand's outdoors. Here's what the test results show.

Class 1

Durability rating

Made for wet winters, salt air and strong UV, with just 0.6% width swelling (4 to 10% for common hardwoods) and no tannin bleed.

16 kN

Harder than kwila

About 16 kN Janka hardness, roughly twice kwila's 8.6 kN, so it resists dents from furniture and busy feet.

Class B

Fire performance

Both boards tested to EN 13501-1 methods (radiant panel, EN ISO 9239-1), with low smoke results.

5 years

Rapid regrowth

Moso bamboo is ready to harvest in about five years and regrows from its own roots. From an FSC 100% certified supplier.

Class B

Slip resistance

Rated in wet, barefoot ramp tests to DIN 51097, the test used for pool surrounds, on dassoXTR's smooth face and dassoCTECH's wave face.

HOW IT'S MADE

From grove to deck board

1. Harvest
   Mature Moso bamboo is harvested selectively at about five years old. It regrows from the same roots, so nothing needs replanting.

2. Crush into strands
   The stalks are split, de-skinned and crushed into long fibre strands.

3. Treat for colour and durability
   dassoXTR is heat-treated in two stages, giving its Deep Walnut tone and removing the sugars and starch that fungi feed on. dassoCTECH uses CeramiX mineral technology to keep its Warm Caramel colour.

4. Fuse, mill and finish
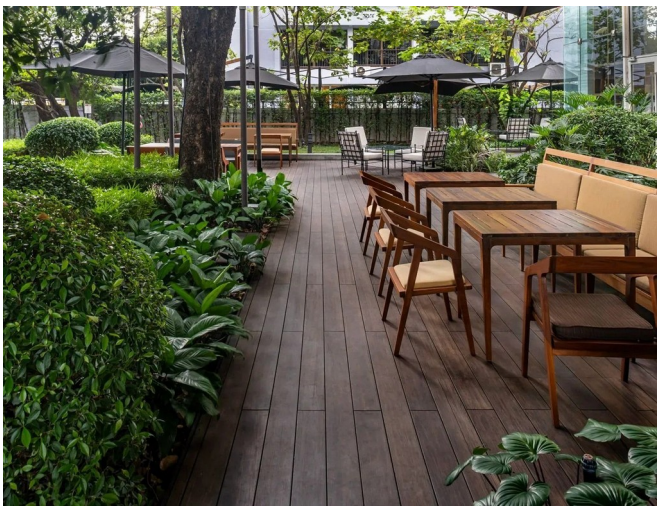
   The strands are coated in resin, fused under heat and pressure into dense blocks, then milled into boards and finished in water-based oil on all sides.

THE COLOURS

Two rich colours to choose from



Warm Caramel dassoCTECH

A light, warm tone similar to kwila, with a clean, contemporary timber character. Available in 1850 mm and long 3050 mm lengths for fewer joins.

Deep Walnut dassoXTR

A rich, deep 'coffee bean' brown for striking contrast and darker exterior palettes. Our best-selling board, in 1850 mm lengths.

Both colours silver to a soft grey if left uncoated. An annual clean and a water-based oil bring the warm tones back, no sanding needed.

BOARD SIZES

Length × width × thickness	dassoXTR · Deep Walnut	dassoCTECH · Warm Caramel
Deck board	1850 × 137 × 20 mm	1850 × 137 × 20 mm 3050 × 137 × 20 mm
Wide line deck board	1850 × 178 × 20 mm	1850 × 178 × 20 mm
Edge board (single groove)	1850 × 137 × 20 mm	3050 × 137 × 20 mm
Fencing and subfloor cladding	1860 × 100 × 12 mm	1860 × 100 × 12 mm
Joist centres	462.5 mm	462.5 mm (1850 boards) 435 mm (3050 boards)

Deck boards have tongue-and-groove ends and grooved edges for hidden clips.

EASY INSTALL

Hidden clips, clean lines

- Stainless steel clips sit in the board's side groove, so there are no screw heads on show.
- Goes down around 50% faster than face-fixed hardwood decking.
- Joists at 462.5 mm centres for 1850 boards, or 435 mm for 3050 boards.
- 150 mm is the recommended minimum clearance from ground to the underside of the framing in New Zealand, for airflow and ventilation.
